General Principles

The University values the contribution of honorary, adjunct and visiting appointees to the teaching, research and academic culture of the University.

Honorary and adjunct appointments would normally be for an initial three year period.

Visiting appointments would normally be for an initial period of less than 12 months.

Appointments may be renewed for a further term subject to the continuing contribution of the appointee and based upon the approval of the recommendation by the appropriate delegated officer.
Honorary, adjunct and visiting appointees are not remunerated for their service.

Appointments will cease if the appointee obtains a continuing or fixed-term appointment with the University. Honorary, adjunct and visiting academics may be appointed on a casual basis for limited period of no more than three months during a calendar year.

An appointee may terminate their appointment in writing to the Vice-Chancellor at any time.

The Vice-Chancellor may terminate an appointment in writing at any time.

Rights and Privileges of Appointees

An appointee will be accorded the normal rights and privileges of a University staff member; specifically use of library, office, computer, communication facilities.

In addition, an appointee:

- may have their name added to the list of academic, teaching or research staff in the official listing of University staff upon the recommendation of the relevant Executive Dean or Director of academic unit and approval of the relevant delegated officer;
- may represent the University in professional forums, conferences and seminars;
- may request to nominate the University as the host institution for the purpose of research applications, with the University administering any grants and associated staff appointments, provided any publications resulting from the research appropriately name and recognise the University. Approval for any application must be gained from the relevant Executive Dean or Director of academic unit and the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research and Innovation) prior to submission of any application; and
- is eligible to co-supervise higher degree or diploma students providing they meet the eligibility requirements of the University HDR Supervision Policy.

On Ceremonial Occasions:

- Adjunct Professors and Associate Professors rank with Professors and Associate Professors;
- Adjunct senior lecturers, teachers, senior educators and senior researchers rank with senior lecturers, teachers, senior educators; and
- Adjunct lecturers, teachers and researchers and Visiting Fellows and Research Fellows rank with lecturers and teachers.

Responsibilities of Appointees

An appointee must comply with the University’s policies, procedures and legislation as a condition of their appointment.

An appointee must not be or become a member of any Faculty or School Committee, the Academic Board or the University Council or its standing committees or vote in any University elections.

Appointees who will be based at, or who will work from a Federation University Australia campus will be responsible for ensuring they complete the Corporate Induction, Local and OHS inductions as well as required online Equity, Preventing Workplace Bullying and White Ribbon training.
